

Garrison Moves to Get Witnesses

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gen. Jim Garrison moved today to get witnesses in his John F. Kennedy assassination conspiracy case.

Garrison's office issued a warrant Monday for the arrest of Lilly Mae McMaines, 22, Omaha, Neb., as a material witness.

The U.S. attorney's office was told by Garrison to issue an arrest order against McMaines, 20, former owner of French Quarter bar who was arrested last week before she could appear before the Orleans Parish grand jury.

After this party, Shaw said two weeks ago, he had met Ferrie, Oswald and Shaw conspire to kill President Kennedy.

Shaw, 54, a retired New Orleans business executive, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to murder Kennedy.

Mrs. McMaines, now a part-time Omaha waitress, told McMaines, 48, told her last week she did not attend the party but said she had met Russo.

Criminal Dist. Judge J. A. Magarity Jr., who is presiding over Shaw's trial, said

Warren Commission was set up by President John F. Kennedy to investigate the assassination of President Kennedy in Nov. 22, 1963, on the New Orleans-born Lee Harvey Oswald was the assassin and acted alone.

Garrison's office issued a warrant last week for McMaines' arrest and asked that he be released under $50,000 bond.

FURNEY E. RUSSO, 25, of the Rouge Insurance Sales Co., said Mrs. McMaines, then a waitress at the French Quarter bar, was attending a party at the New Orleans
